

IGEC Best Paper Award

The IGEC Best Paper Award is made to the authors of the high-quality research paper judged as the best and presented at the International Green Energy Conference (IGEC). The Award may include a cash prize based on the availability of sponsorship.

1. Eligibility

Authors are invited to enter competition during the submission stage, and an eligible paper should meet the criteria described as below:

- The paper must be presented at IGEC. The award is however for the best written paper, so the presentation will not form part of the evaluation.

2. Judging Criteria

The judging panel are asked to evaluate the papers based upon the criteria below.

- Structure
- Theme
- Integration
- Contribution
- Research methodology
- Conclusion

3. Judging procedure

The judges evaluate the papers independently, and then meet to discuss and agree on a ranking list to identify the best paper.
